Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity. This credit may also be applied to the CMA Certification in Continuing Medical Education.

Dear Readers,

Fall in is full swing here in sunny southern California. Daylight savings time ended on November 3rd and we had to turn our clocks BACKWARD one hour. Something we can look FORWARD to for the month of December is our wonderful Annual George Kypridakis Lecture by Dr. David Cassarino on the topic of Dermatopathology. The talk will be held on Tuesday, December 10, at our usual place at Good Samaritan's Moseley Salvatori Conference Center, with the pre-program reception starting at 5:30pm, and the talk starting promptly at 6:30pm.

The seasons will be changing but one thing will not. The LASOP will be holding its 23rd Annual Current Topics in Pathology on the subject of Hematopathology with Drs. Kaaren K. Reichard April Chiu from the Mayo Clinic on Saturday January 18, 2020.

Registration can be found here:

The holidays are around the corner and this month we will celebrate Thanksgiving. One way you can give thanks is by joining or renewing your membership with the LASOP! You may renew in person at any of our monthly meetings, by emailing Shirley Jacke at LASOPmd@gmail.com, or online at www.lasop.org.

Sincerely,

The Board

Los Angeles Society of Pathologists 23rd Annual All-Day Program: Hematopathology

Dear Colleagues:

The Los Angeles Society of Pathologists is pleased to announce our esteemed speakers for the 23rd Annual All-Day Academic Program: Kaaren K. Reichard, MD, and April Chiu, MD.

Dr. Kaaren Reichard is Professor of Pathology, in the Hematopathology Division at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, MN. She was the former Chair of the Hematopathology Division and Program Director for the Hematopathology Fellowship. Prior to joining the Mayo Clinic, she was on the faculty at the University of New Mexico. She has authored over 100 book chapters and co-authored several books on diagnostic hematopathology, including the 3rd and 4th editions of “Bone Marrow Pathology,” along with having published over 75 peer-reviewed articles. Her focus is on bone marrow pathology and test utilization. She also has a strong interest in medical education, which includes teaching at all levels of graduate medical education and providing workshops/CME courses at national meetings.

Dr. April Chiu is Associate Professor and Director of Quality for the Hematopathology Division at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, MN. She previously served on the faculty of Weill Cornell Medical College, Brigham and Women’s Hospital/Harvard Medical School, and Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center. She has co-authored and published over 60 peer-reviewed articles and book chapters. Her primary areas of interest include aggressive B-cell lymphomas, chronic myeloid malignancies, and quality management.

Dr. Reichard and Dr. Chiu have given courses and lectures through several organizations, including the United States and Canadian Academy of Pathology.

As renowned experts in their fields, they will offer LASOP members and conference attendees their expert views on recent updates and practical approaches to topics in hematopathology for the practicing general pathologist, including:

- 1) Diagnostic strategies in diffuse large B-cell lymphoma
- 2) Updates in acute myeloid leukemia
- 3) Updates in low-grade B-cell lymphoproliferative disorders
- 4) New concepts in myelodysplastic syndrome and precursor clonal states [e.g., clonal hematopoiesis of indeterminate potential (CHIP), clonal cytopenias of uncertain significance (CCUS)]
- 5) Practical spleen pathology
- 6) Extramedullary myeloid proliferations
- 7) Approach to histiocytic proliferations in the bone marrow

The LASOP All-Day Program is scheduled for Saturday, January 18, 2020, at the City of Hope Medical Center in Duarte, California.

For registration details and payment options, online registration is available using Eventbrite here:

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/lasop-23rd-annual-current-topics-in-pathology-hematopathology-tickets-69775691973?aff=affiliate1>

Early registration is recommended as a large attendance is expected and space is limited. Participants are encouraged to register on or before December 15th 2019, to receive the discounted rate. Additionally, early registrants may take advantage of the “Bundle Deal” ($300 for active members, a $50 savings), which includes registration for the All-Day Program and 2020 membership dues.

All-Day Program conference attendees will be eligible to participate in the BINGO game tradition to enter a raffle to win a $100 AMAZON.COM GIFT CARD!

We hope you will all join us in January 2020 for the Annual All-Day Program to learn from world-renowned experts, Dr. Reichard and Dr. Chiu, what every practicing pathologist should know in hematopathology. The LASOP is honored to have a dedicated membership and is pleased to continue to offer members this invaluable educational resource in Southern California.

Sincerely,
Board of Directors
Los Angeles Society of Pathologists

Olive View-UCLA Medical Center, one of the four Los Angeles County hospital facilities and a major teaching institution for the David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA, is seeking an outstanding academic and dynamic leader to serve as Chair of the Department of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine. Olive View-UCLA Medical Center is a premiere health care institution serving the greater San Fernando Valley Community within the Department of Health Services of the County of Los Angeles. With its 377-bed hospital Olive View is a major UCLA teaching affiliate located against the backdrop of the beautiful San Gabriel Mountains surrounding the San Fernando Valley.

The Chair of the Department of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine at Olive View-UCLA has leadership responsibilities at the hospital and is expected to serve as the institution's physician lead for the Los Angeles County-Department of Health Services' system-wide alignment of Anatomic Pathology and Laboratory Medicine.

Qualifications including academic rank of Associate Professor or Professor, an active clinical practice and advanced clinical expertise in anatomic pathology and general surgical pathology, and AP/CP board certification; record of leadership accomplishments, past administrative experience, and research are preferred. Applicants must be eligible for licensure in California. Equal Opportunity Employer.

The Department of Pathology and the Administration of the Hospital / Los Angeles County Department of Health Services are committed to the recruitment of a skilled manager and an inspirational academician who will promote high quality patient care delivery, innovation in systems engineering, and excellence in medical education and research.

The selected candidate will receive the appropriate appointment at the David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA. The hospital's location offers both, an easy commute and access to all the cosmopolitan attractions of one of the world's great and temperate cities.

Applicants are invited to send a letter of intent, CV and 3 references to:
